Lucita: I think it is to take a first, hard look at the document overall to identify any significant issues (sections missing, etc.). I hope to get to this on Friday!

Remind me of the purpose of our review – is it to comb through it with detailed comments or for big picture items.

I'm out of the office Thu and Fri this week.

So. I am working on more remediation, although there is quite a bit peppered in some of the sections, maps, literature cited and references.

(I hesitate to push the SEND button on this!)
